Because of its many essential fattyacids and it's unique combination of inimitable contents arganoil is perfect for skin, hair, body and soul. Since 1996 considerable scientists from marocco, germany, france, britain, italy and canada have researched the many potentials of arganoil and yet not have documented all of its healthy features. From brain to fingernail, from the prostata to the heart arganoil is alltogether an essential dietary- and cosmetic-oil.

EXTERNAL the arganoil of non-roasted Arganaldmonds is usually used. With less odor and filtered it is used as face- and bodyoil, for Massage, anti-cellulitis and anti-aging applications, for bathing or as a precious ingredient in cosmetics. Even used in modern naturopathy it is especially good for scars and the support of wound-healing, itchy skin, psoriasis, neurodermatitis, sun burns and many other skinproblems.

AS DIETARY it supplements the skincare effects and enables with its essential contents the complex biochemistry of the whole cellular-system to work properly. Help your body, from the immune system over the hormon-system up to the regeneration processes of all your organs, to stay healthy and functional in a unique way. Among the contents there are many high-potential cell-protectors and great amounts of Vitamine E, which make Arganoil one of the most powerfull biological anti-aging remedies and very protective against cancer. All of its valueable contents, with their complete range of positive effects yet to discover, make it so special in its digestibility and herbal activity.

Either unroasted or hearty roasted and traditionally hand-pressed it's always good for salad, anti-pasti, main dish, with dessert or simply with crushed almonds and honey for break-fast. The recommended daily dosis is 3 tsp.
